Curwood's Famous Dog Story, 'Kazan,' Transferred to Film

What is declared to be one of the season will be shown at the Central theatre Friday and Saturday and at the Eagle theatre next Sunday, when "Kazan," adapted from James Oliver Curwood's thrilling narrative of the same name, opens an engagement. It is a William N. Selig production with Jane Novak in the leading role, supported by Ben Deeley, William Ryno, Ben Haggerty and Edwin Wallock. The story was adapted for the screen and directed by Bertram Bracken. It is a gripping tale of a great malevolent dog named "Kazan," who becomes a killer following the murder of his master. He is the enemy of all mankind until he comes into contact with beautiful Joan Radisson, who befriends him and sets him free from his brutal surroundings. He joins a wolf pack, becomes its leader and has an opportunity while leading the pack to show his appreciation to those who befriended him when the wolves swoop down on the girl and a man trekking through the wilds of the great snow country. He fights off the pack in what is said to be one of the most thrilling scenes ever pictured. Twice more he saves this same girl, but on these occasions it is from a human wolf. He also visits a terrible revenge upon the slayer of his master.

DOROTHY DALTON STARRED IN "HALF AN HOUR," FROM FAMOUS PLAY BY SIR JAMES BARRIE

A popular stage play by Sir James M. Barrie, "Half An Hour," serves as Dorothy Dalton's latest screen starring vehicle. The picture was well received last evening at the Central theatre and will show this afternoon and tonight at the Eagle theatre.

The heroine of the story is Lady Lillian, practically sold by her impoverished father when she becomes the wife of Garson, a wealthy American. He loves her, but her attitude toward him finally leads him to treat her cruelly and she becomes involved in a secret affair with Hugh Paton, an Englishman of her station in life. She is about to run away with him and is at his apartment for that purpose when she learns that he is unfaithful. At the same time news comes of his death in a motor accident. Dramatic events ensue, at the end of which Lady Lillian and her American husband are reconciled.

Miss Dalton is ideally qualified to portray the aristocratic young wife and gives a spirited and appealing performance. Her supporting cast includes Charles Richman, Albert Barret and Frank Dosee. Harley Knoles directed and it is a Paramount picture.

"The White Circle," Maurice Tournear's Latest Photoplay

Maurice Tournear, who was so successful recently in his picturization of "Treasure Island," has taken another Robert Louis Stevenson story as the basis of his latest production, "The White Circle," coming to the Eagle theatre Tuesday and Wednesday and Central theatre Thursday. The picture was adapted from "The Pavilion on the Links."

The story centers around the attempted escape of Bernard Huddleston, a London banker who has absconded with the funds of the Carbonari, an Italian secret society. Northmour, a gentleman adventurer, consents to help Huddleston get away, provided the banker will grant him the hand of his pretty daughter, Clara. The fugitives land from Northmour's yacht on to the lonely Scottish coast and take refuge in a country house there. Thither comes the Carbonari, also a youthful wanderer named Cassilis, and a drama of love and conflict develops to a startling denouement.

"The White Circle" abounds in spectacular effects and artistic backgrounds which are always associated with Maurice Tournear's name. Janice Wilson, Spottiswoode Aitken and Jack Gilbert have the leading roles. It is a Paramount Artcraft picture.

STRIKE IS THREATENED
EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 1.—Operators in the American moving picture houses here today served notice on their employers they would go on a sympathetic strike unless the owners of the houses speedily concluded an agreement with the musicians union. The musicians have been on strike since September 1, when their wage agreement expired.

The percentage of men teachers in this country has fallen from 43 per cent in 1880 to 16 per cent in 1918.

AGNES AYRES in "HELD BY THE ENEMY," A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

ably directed by Donald Crisp, "Held by the Enemy" is distinctly an artistic achievement. The scenes are laid in and about an old Southern manor in the final stage of the rebellion. The story has to do with a Southern belle who believing her husband to have been killed in battle falls in love with a Yankee colonel. At the crucial moment he husband turns up. After learning that his wife loves the colonel, he steps out of his wife's pathway to love and happiness. Mr. Holt is excellent as Colonel Prescott, while beautiful Agnes Ayres was charming as Rachel Hayne, the sweetheart wife.
